“”ROB NICHOLS“”

Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Although he was on the shy side, Rob Nichols who grew up in Groveland, Fl. had a natural ability to entertain. He entered his first talent competition as a teenager and after that there was no turning back. He began his journey to Nashville and by the age of 21 he had become a published songwriter, member of BMI, and an experienced demo singer and has played many of the venues on Music Row as well as the hundreds of Honky Tonks and Music Fests throughout the Southeast. He has shared the stage with some of County Music's Greatest including Diamond Rio, The Bellamy Brother's, Confederate Railroad, The Hank Williams Jr. Band, and the Judd's.

Rob has always believed in giving back and is involved with the March of Dimes and the American Cancer Society. He also recorded a song, "God Knows Who I am" for the National Alzheimer's Association. The song was written by his good friend, and Grand Ole Opry performer, Jeff Orr, and it was published by the Legendary Mr. Tom T. Hall.
